The Pingry Honor Code

Pingry believes that students should understand and live by standards of honorable behavior, which are essentially a matter of attitude and spirit rather than a system of rules and regulations. Decent, self-respecting behavior must be based on personal integrity and genuine concern for others and on the ethical principles which are the basis of civilized society.

The members of the Pingry community should conduct themselves in a trustworthy manner that will further the best interests of the school, their class, and any teams or clubs to which they belong. They should act as responsible members of the community, working for the common good rather than solely for personal advantage. They should honor the rights of others, conducting themselves at all times in a moral and decent manner while at Pingry and throughout their lives as citizens of and contributors to the larger community of the world.

Created by Pingry Students, 1926; Adopted by the Pingry faculty, 1949; Revised, 1988

4. As a Pingry student you would be expected to value and uphold the ideals of the Honor Code. Please read and think about our Code, and then provide any comments, concerns, or questions you may have about it.

5. What qualities do you feel good leaders share?
